VOL. XXII, No. 4. TWENTY-SECOND YEAR GLOUCESTER, MASS., AUGUST 3, 1918. PRICE FIVE CENTS

East Gloucester

AS the result of a peculiarly worded telegram received by William A. Levy, a well known New York artist who makes the Wayside, a Hawthorne Inn cottage, his summer home the latter was taken into custody Sunday by the local police and his effects thoroughly overhauled After an interview with an official from the Department of Justice, Levy was released with the understanding that he report again to City Marshal Casey.

Two New Yorkers, including a newspaper man summering at East Gloucester called at the station and spoke highly of Levy. They said he was in the draft and they did not believe he would be guilty of unpatriotic deeds. Levy has exhibited here. Two other persons who have been under surveillance have disappeared but it is understood that the government officials are on their trail.

A regrettable occurrence in which a prominent summer resident was concerned is that where Anthony N. B. Farrell, while operating an automobile last week, ran over on eleven year old boy, William Henn, who died Sunday of his injuries. Young Farrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Farrell of Albany who, two years ago, purchased the estate of Hon. J. Sloat Fassett at Bass Rocks, one of the finest on the North Shore. Mr. Farrell is a well known newspaper proprietor and capitalist of national repute and the family, since coming here, have made many friends. The case will be heard by continuance in the District court, Aug 12, the young man being held in $10,000 bonds furnished by his father.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE CAPE ANN SHORE, now in its twenty-second consecutive season, is the only summer resort publication on Cape Ann. It reaches every section of the cape, and is the only means of communication of the kind between the merchants and the summer residents. Therefore its value as an advertising medium is self-evident. It contains each week a full and complete account of the social happenings of the summer resort section. It occupies a place by itself in the advertising field, reaching the most profitable customers along the North Shore. Advertisers should remember these facts.

PRINTED AT THE OFFICE OF THE BARRY PRINTING COMPANY, SALEM, MASS.

NOTICE

Owing to the absence in the Naval Service of the conductor of this paper and inability to attend to the advertising end of the proposition; the urgent demand of the Government for the saving of white paper and the scarcity of labor, the number of pages of this publication is, perforce, reduced. After the Great Peace and normal conditions, the paper will be issued at its usual size.

The Essex Shipyards

All along the seacoast the ring of mallet on trunnel and caulking iron on oakum proclaim the renaissance of American shipbuilding.

The frontispiece depicts a scene in the Essex shipyards which turn out the Gloucester and New England fishing fleet. Some 200 years ago an Essex boat builder turned out a stanch craft for fishing along the coast superior to anything of the kind afloat. The man put his conscience and his brain in the work. The type became famous as the Chebacco boat, Chebacco being the Indian name for Essex. Since then this place has built the greater part of the fishing craft of New England.

Collis P. Huntington when he built the Newport News shipbuilding plant over 30 years ago caused this to be engraved in granite letters over the gateway to the plant. "We shall build ships at a profit if we can; at a loss if we must; but always good ships." That was the unwritten policy of generations of Essex shipbuilders.

Keep The Back Shore Road Open

One of the most regrettable occurrences in municipal history was in the early 90's when the shore road from Freshwater cove skirting the sea to Magnolia Point was discontinued at the solicitation of landowners of the locality and the present roadway known as Hesperus ave. substituted. The writer vigorously opposed this in the press. It was the first road trodden in the Massachusetts Bay colony, blazed out when the pioneers skirted the shore from Gloucester to Salem. The single-handed fight for its preservation unfortunately was lost. That road should have been preserved for its close view of the unrivaled Gloucester bay and the famous reef of Norman's Woe. It was a great pity to have it bartered off so lightly. Historical sentiment alone should have been potent enough to preserve this.

Other encroachments of shore and beach property seeking to bar out the public have been essayed from time to time. The Gate lodge controversy some 25 years ago when at attempt was made to keep the public from Niles' pond is another case in point. Then the pickerel fishermen who resorted to the pond put up a winning fight for its preservation.

Now Maj. Prentiss, who has written a letter to the Municipal Council in relation to the matter, seeks to shut off the Back Shore road from public travel. This would be almost as wicked, should it succeed, as was the loss of the Old Salem road to Kettle cove. Of course it would be very nice if the sole right to these privileges be secured. Human nature in some things is selfish and seeks to keep the good things of life for exclusive use. But in this matter of the shore drives a larger public good must be subserved. The roadway can be continued without in the least detracting from property in that section.

This is not a case where the "natives" or townspeople rise up jealously to resent an alleged encroachment on the part of summer residents. Rather the summer residents of Bass Rocks and Eastern Point initiated the protest in a memorial to the Municipal Council and seek to have the open road maintained. Fortunately the Council has the solution of this matter in its hands.

Etchings of George W. Harvey

Really good etchers are few. The art made famous by Rembrandt, Whistler and others is now undergoing a great revival both in this country and Europe.

One of its foremost exponents in this country is George W. Harvey whose studio is in Curve st., Annisquam, where the interested visitor is always welcomed.

Mr. Harvey is well known as a painter of oil and water colors and until recently a frequent exhibitor in many of the larger cities of the country and at The St. Botolph and Boston Art club, Chicago Art Instiute and others.

He is now, as for years, an enthusiastic etcher as the plates etched in Venice, Holland and France indicates and now joining in the revival of the art in this country he is anxious to do his "bit" in keeping alive the most individual of the representative of the graphic arts.

The plates in the series of a "Liber Studiorum" of Gloucester and Cape Ann are considered among the finest of any American etcher of the day. This collection includes also some of his work done abroad and to that increasing class interested in etching an inspection of Mr. Harvey's work will prove a pleasure and a revelation.

A letter of great interest as to the daily doings of the Woman's Plattsburg, at Vassar, was read from Miss Edith Brody, Smith College, 1914, a member of the club and now in the training camp for nurses.

Mrs. Mary E. Hutchinson spoke on the practical possibilities of honey as a substitute for sugar.

College songs added zest to the occasion and all are looking forward to the open meeting of the Gloucester Women's College Club in August.

City Fights For "Back Shore" Road

The matter of reopening the Eastern Point shore road at Brace's Cove which has been closed sometime is still in abeyance and in the hands of City Solicitor M. Francis Buckley. As a result of the persistent objections that have arisen, every effort will be made to protect the rights of the public in this most beautiful stretch of road along the seashore.

The road was closed by Major John W. Prentiss, who claims to have purchased the land from the Eastern Point Company in February, 1917. City Solicitor Buckley and members of the Municipal Council have gone over the situation and as it stands today, Major Prentiss has given his consent to Mr. Buckley that he will take the matter into the Land Court.

The Bass Rocks Improvement Association which first brought the matter to the attention of the Municipal Council has decided to employ legal counsel to work with Mr. Buckley on the case. The Board of trade has also been asked by Joseph F. MacPhee to take some action in this important matter.

Considerable correspondence has been made and the letters are of especial interest, particularly the one from Major Prentiss to Mr. Buckley a short time ago. The conference suggested in the Prentiss letter was held and it was at that time that Major Prentiss agreed to take the matter into the Land Court. Mr. Buckley's letter to the Bass Rocks Improvement Association practically gives the situation as it stands.

The letters are as follows:

July 10, 1918.

M. Francis Buckley, City Solicitor,
Gloucester, Mass.

My dear Sir: Thanks for your kind note of July 6th in which you state that complaints have come to the attention of the Municipal Council to the effect that I am obstructing a road adjoining my property which leads to the light-house at Eastern Point in this city.

I regret that the time of the Municipal Council and of yourself has been taken up by baseless complaints of this sort.

The situation regarding my property at Eastern Point is as follows: In February, 1917, I purchased from the Eastern Point Company 24 acres of land. This land is bounded on the north by the fresh water pond (Niles Pond), on the east by Brace's Cove, and on the south by the Atlantic ocean.

Under the terms of my deed from the Eastern Point Company I agreed to build a road from Brace's Cove along the line of the fresh water pond and thence turning south to the ocean All of the land which this road surrounds belongs to me. I built this road last winter. It is a well constructed wide highway.

It does not in any way, shape or manner, obstruct the approach to the light-house at Eastern Point. There are two ways of reaching the light-house at Eastern Point. The principal one, however, is that road which runs along Gloucester harbor on the western side of the Point My property is on the eastern side of the point and is in no way contiguous to the light-house.

I have not interfered with either the rights or the pleasures of the public. As a matter of fact I have built a mighty good road for the public use.

I am a member of the banking firm of Hornblower & Weeks in Boston. You will perhaps recall the firm and I have no doubt that you know personally one of its founders, United States Senator Weeks of Massachusetts.

It is my intention after the war is over and we can return to our peaceful pursuits to build a substantial and permanent home on my land at Eastern Point. As perhaps you know, I married the eldest daughter of the late James Murray Kay, who for 29 years has had a residence on Eastern Point.

In years to come I hope to become a resident of the city of Gloucester, and I am most anxious to take an active part in its political, charitable and civic affairs.

I hope to be in Gloucester on Saturday, July 13th and it will give me great pleasure to cal on you and to have you lunch with me at my house at Eastern Point. I can then show you the land which I own and can outline to you my plans for future improvements. It would also give me great pleasure if the City Engineer could join us at that time.

Very truly yours,
John W. Prentiss,
Major, Ord. R. C.

July 18, 1918.

Bass Rocks Improvement Association,
Gloucester, Mass.

Gentlemen: Your communication of July 8th, addressed to the Municipal Council, relative to the closing of the shore road to Eastern Point at Brace's Cove, has been referred to me.

You are doubtless aware that on Saturday last, the Municipal Council with a few interested citizens visited Brace's Cove and went over the matter carefully with John W. Prentiss. I believe we have convinced Mr. Prentiss that there is a decided insistent and persistent objection on the part of the Municipal Council and the citizens generally to the closing of this road, and with the idea of determining the rights of the public in the matter, I endeavored to prevail upon upon Mr Prentiss to file a petition in the Land Court which he has agreed to do, stating that it would take perhaps a couple of weeks before he could move in the matter.

I feel that I can assure your association that the Municipal Council are most desirous of keeping that road open and that they will take such steps as seem most consistent under all the circumstances. Very truly yours

M. Francis Buckley,
City Solicitor.

Masons on Coolidge Point, could have lost his life in the midst of so many bathers who were obtaining relief from the heat on Saturday afternoon.

The man, evidently stricken with cramps, was swimming beyond his depth and it was several minutes before his companion, who was three times pulled to the bottom in his effort to save him, recovered sufficiently from his dazed condition to spread the alarm.

A pulmotor was used for nearly an hour and a half but all efforts to revive him proved fruitless. He leaves a wife and one child.

Greek Pageant and Fete East at Gloucester

The midsummer out-door event of the season will be staged next Friday afternoon, Aug 9, in the field adjoining the Gallery-on-the-Moors at East Gloucester.

The idea was conceived by Miss Anna Seaton-Schmidt of Washington. A fete in honor of Demeter, god of the harvest, is given in the market place at Athens.

This gives an opportunity for effective staging and pageantry which is availed of in a most artistic manner. In the market place there will be booths where pictures, sculptures, flowers, fruits, etc., are sold to the Pilgrims who are attracted to the fete. As the proceeds are to go to Red Cross work it behooves all attending Pilgrims to bring along a liberal supply of the coin of the realm.

That the affair is in most competent hands and will be correctly presented from an artistic and historical standpoint will be evident by a perusal of the subjoined committees. In the East Gloucester summer colony are a number especially qualified for work of this character and these have volunteered their services.

The pageant and dancing will be at five, the stage representing a threshing floor. No doubt there will be a large outpouring of North Shore people to witness the spectacle. The committees:

Executive committee—Mrs. William E. Atwood, Miss Lucy Conant, Mrs. Hinchman, Miss Adeline Piper, Miss Anna Seaton-Schmidt, Louis Kronberg. Advisory committee—Miss Cecilia Beaux, Ralph Adams Cram, Livingstone Platt.

Consultation committee—Dr. Robinson (professor of Greek at Johns Hopkins) Dr. K. K. Smith (professor of Greek at Brown University), George O. Stacy and Dr. Torrey. General outdoor committee—William Jay Little, W. Scott O'Connor, Walter H. Osborne.

Booths in Greek Market—Mrs. Harcourt, Miss Kaye, Miss Lyle, Mrs. Riggs, Miss Wood. Costumes—Mrs. Atherton, Miss Conant, Miss Cunningham, Mrs. Randal Davy, Miss Hosford, Miss Merchison, Miss Neilson, Miss Olson, Mrs. Saveson.

Properties—Miss Conant, Miss Hallett, Miss Leonard, Miss Neilson, Mrs. Nordell, Miss Peterson, Dr. Robinson. Motor service—Mrs. Bolton, Mrs. Hinchman, Miss Jane Peterson, W. J. Little, Mr. Palmer. Ushers—Miss Susan Hayes, Miss Cunningham. Fruit, flowers and vegetables—Miss Cecilia Beaux, Mrs. Charles Hopkinson.

The Annisquam Region

Edwin D. Mellen of Cambridge, a former summer resident of Annisquam, died last Sunday at his home in Cambridge, after an illness of about a week. Mr. Mellen was well known here, where he was held in high regard.

He was the son of James Mellen and grandson of Curtis Davis and was for many years associated with his father in business under the firm name of Curtis, Davis and Co.

He leaves besides his wife, two daughters, Lucille and Adele Mellen, and two sons, Edwin and Richard, both of whom are with the United States Army. He also leaves his mother, Mrs. Christina Mellen, and four sisters, Mrs. Frederick Cunningham, Miss Sarah Mellen, and Mrs. Louise Stone of Cambridge, and Mrs. Mattie Rich of Maynard.

Following cremation, burial took place at the Cambridge cemetery.

The Tavern—The Belmont—The Savoy

It is gratifying to note that the second year of the Tavern shows a marked increase over last year and its initial season was very satisfactory. Evidently a solid reputation is being established. It was a matter of some pride to the citizens that the Tavern was built on the site of the old Pavilion. A hotel had been there since 1850 and the burning of the old hostelry left a void which the Tavern has filled. It took courage to thus branch out but Prop. W. Henry Smith is being justified in his venture. Last Thursday the Police Chiefs of Massachusetts had their banquet there and today the City Treasurers Association of the state foregathered there for their annual convention. The place is deservedly popular with automobilists and excursionists. Its dancing pavilion is in high favor. No finer view than that of Gloucester bay from its verandahs is to be obtained.

In the center of the City the brothers Fred S. and Richard Lufkin some 20 years ago established the Belmont hotel at a high standard. Richard has passed on but his brother maintains the place at its mark. It has always been a favorite with people of the summer colony who wanted a headquarters in the city proper. Its bowling alleys, than which there are none finer, are deservedly popular. A cool breeze from the ocean always circulates through the house and makes the place enjoyable.

Further on down Main street is the Savoy, Proprietor J. Thomas King, widely known as the home of good living, of music and of good cheer. With more than a local reputation—house and landlord—its friends are increasing in New England. These centrally located hotels, well conducted, are no small asset in the city's popularity with the summer people. The traveler headed for these parts knows that ahead of him unexcelled entertainment is assured and Gloucester profits accordingly.
